FICO® Scores

The following lists display the score reason codes and associated reason statements for FICO Scores across the major US credit reporting agencies. These lists may be used as a reference when taking adverse action or in customer service when responding to consumers' inquiries as to the reasons for declination.

The lists are presented in alphanumerical sequence by assigned FICO® NextGen risk score reason code. The legend is as follows:

- A number or alphanumeric code in the column specifies the code associated with the reason statement for that score.
- (I) in the column indicates that the code is only used in one or more classic FICO® Industry Scores but is not currently used in the classic base model.
- (M) in the column indicates that the code is only used in the FICO® Mortgage Score but is not currently used in the classic base model.
- A (w) indicates that the wording has slightly changed from the last published list.
- A blank in the column indicates that the code is not presently delivered with that particular score.

FICO has considered concerns of the Federal Reserve Board (FRB) and the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC) in developing the statements associated with these score reason codes. We believe that the regulatory agencies are likely to be satisfied with these reason codes and associated reason statements. In any event, we recommend that FICO and your legal counsel be consulted whenever changes to score code reason statements are made. If this is necessary, please contact FICO's Score Support Helpline at scoresupport@fico.com.
